Thank you!

Find the hero in you.

The Sisters' Corner ...

Dear OLMC Family,
The time has come for me to say good bye!!

I will keep in my heart everything that God allowed me to live here. I truly believe in the perfection of God's Will, and I can say for sure He wanted me here to see the blessings of His Plan for the community and for the Parish-School family.

I would like to express everything that I have in my heart with a deep THANK YOU to everyone.

Thank you for opening your hearts to the community, to me. I feel so much part of it!!!

This Parish/School community is a real blessing for the Diocese! So, that means that every one of you who are building this Body of Christ is truly a blessing. I have been touched so many times for the beautiful testimony you have given to me, making ordinary actions with so much love. God has touched my heart through you: in the smiles of the kids, the beauty of the family, the elderly, all of you in the different ministries, the music that every Sunday helped me so much in my encounter with God, the wisdom coming from the pulpit, my delicious coffee after Sunday mass!

All of you are going to be in my heart but I will have a special place for every parent and kid of Full Circle!! I have seen sufferings and miracles in so many ways, I treasure everything in my heart!

This is the beauty of life that God has given us. Our lives are like crossroads, we give and receive love and we keep going until one day we can all meet again in our final destination of this Pilgrimage, our ETERNAL HOME!

I will pray for OLMC!! Please pray for me!

Love you,
Sr. Veronica

Stewardship Reflection

Today's Gospel reading recounts Jesus' miracle of feeding the multitude. In a miracle that anticipated Jesus' miracle of feeding the multitude, as reported in today's Gospel, Elisha commanded that a small amount of bread be served to 100 men, and Jesus promised that all would indeed be fed. Elisha trusted that promise, acted upon it, and saw the promise miraculously fulfilled.

We, like most people, tend to forget the miracles our Lord can work in everyday life. If we trust in God and live as good stewards, what we accomplish is, in its own way, a miracle. St. Paul beautifully sums up how our approach to living as Catholics and Christians should be. In today's Second Reading from his letter to the Ephesians, Paul urges us to live "with all humility and gentleness, with patience, bearing with one another through love, striving to preserve the unity of spirit through the bond of peace: one body and one Spirit." Does that describe our parish community?

This cannot happen unless we have the same kind of trust that Elisha had, and which St. Paul had, as well. Paul also says in today's Second Reading, "I urge you to live in a manner worthy of the call you have received." This is stewardship at its core. We should not give of our time, talent and treasure because we want to earn God's love. He already loves us unconditionally.

Jesus knew full well what miracle He was about to perform, but He also saw this as a chance to teach His Apostles, and also show us the way. Philip and the others had already seen Jesus perform many miracles, and there should have been no question in his mind about the divine resources Jesus had at His disposal. Yet Philip hesitated. It is human nature to be doubtful. Yet, as with Elisha, they all ate, and there was much left over. Through this miracle, Jesus is teaching us to trust Him and to do the same in our lives. And, by committing ourselves to a stewardship way of life, we can see our own gifts multiplied. And perhaps even perform our own modern-day miracles.

As we go forth to continue the work of Padre Serra and Padre Kine and bring the Good News to the people of the Southwest, transform us and make us your instruments of evangelization, enthusiastic in our faith.

May the light of Christ within each of us shine forth as a beacon of hope that reaches those who are far from you, drawing them back to You and your Church.

Consecrate us in truth and according to your will, accomplish your plans in us to radiate the love and mercy of Jesus as exemplified by two great saints who visited our diocese, Pope John Paul ii and Mother Terese of Calcutta. We pray through Christ our Lord, Amen

Dear Friends,

One thing we all know about most young people, mostly based on our own experience as former young people, is that young people will do stupid things. The difference today, as opposed to just ten or so years ago, is that young people also take photos of everything. So, put it together and we have young people doing stupid things and taking photos of themselves doing stupid things.

This is where real trouble starts. What may be innocent enough, when memorialized in a photo can seem to others as a nefarious action. I have watched many young people from as young as eight years old get into serious trouble, including being under criminal investigation over the photos they took of something they thought was just stupid fun. Often times their reputations are harmed, friendships are ended, expulsion from school and other heavy consequences follow them.

So, when someone sent me this tweet by another priest, I thought “right on Father”.

There are lots of dangers lurking in our smartphones. But at the top of the list is “Snapchat”. Though it sells itself as being able to make photos and messages disappear after a time, they can still be saved in cyberspace.

You can save yourself and your child a lot of heartache by saying goodbye to Snapchat. But you might say, “my child would never have this problem” and you may be right but you can’t control what other young people send to your child’s smartphone or the photos they take of your child. I have watched the “innocent bystander” who appears in a photo get caught up in this mess or even when your child is not in the photo but it is sent to your child they can become an accomplice after the fact.

Hopefully you as parents can get rid of Snapchat without being a tyrant or causing too much resentment. But when it comes to non-negotiables, they are non-negotiable. Just as we make a young person wait until they are 16yrs old to begin driving, and even then they have restrictions or wait until 21yrs old to consume alcohol, full, unfettered use of smartphone apps should also be age appropriate.

Parenting in the 21st Century is not turning out as we hoped. Today, most young people know how to use smartphones and apps much better than their parents. Being one step ahead of your children is not so easy these days when it comes to technology. New land mines seem to pop up overnight. I strongly suggest clearing away this land mine before it blows up your child’s life.

Love,
Fr. John B.
