LITURGY AND WORSHIP

THE LAST THINGS (PART I)

By Joseph Malzone

During the month of November, the Church ponders The Last Things, that is, the end of our earthly lives and our life after death. We begin by celebrating All Saints' Day on November 1st, a Holy Day of Obligation. On this day, we rejoice with all the Saints, known and unknown, who, through the mercy and grace of God and aligning their will with His, have attained entry to our Lord's Heavenly Kingdom. The next day, November 2nd, is All Souls' Day, where we pray for all those souls, remembered and forgotten, who have passed on from this world and are in Purgatory awaiting entry to Heaven.

For the next few weeks, we will take a look at some of these Last Things: "Where is our Home?", "What is Purgatory?", "Preparations for a Funeral", and "The Communion of the Saints".

Human beings are created in the image and likeness of God (Gen. 1:26), and we were made to dwell with Him. God, because he is infinitely good and loves us the same, knows that His created can only find true peace and true happiness when we are in complete communion with the Creator. He desires this union with us so deeply He gives us a foretaste of it in the Eucharist when He humbly takes the form of bread so that He may physically dwell within our bodies. He has also established a path, a way to attain that complete union in Heaven, through Jesus Christ. Christ has opened the gates of Heaven so we may, after wanting to and striving towards living in accordance with God's will, can dwell with Him for eternity.

St. Therese of Lisieux, a Carmelite religious sister and Doctor of the Church, often reflected on the phrase, "The world is thy ship, not thy home." She recognized we were made for more. The trials, sufferings, and even the joys of this world we inhabit are not the end we strive for; they are not what we will have forever. Our focus, our work, our prayer should be centered on attaining Heaven and hoping in God's abundant mercy to pour forth and help us get there. We should work to conform our hearts and minds to what God asks us to do to become more like Him, participating in the earthly liturgy we currently have, to prepare for the Heavenly liturgy we hope to participate in. This earthly liturgy, which encompasses every moment of our every day, not just when we attend Holy Mass, is one life-long prayer: asking for God's mercy, thanking him for the gifts he has bestowed, and offering him in return the work of our lives here. What we endure here on Earth, the work we accomplish, is not our goal, our final purpose, or our forever home. This world is merely a passing vessel; we were made for so much more. We were made for Heaven.

Remember your loved ones at masses this coming year. The 2025 Mass Intentions Book will be available beginning on Monday, November 4th, at 9am in the parish office.

A LIVING FAITH

Dear Friends,

“By itself, faith accomplishes nothing. For even the devils believe and shudder. No, faith must be joined to an active love of God which is expressed in good works.” + St. Maximus the Confessor

These words from Saint Maximus may remind us of the reading from the letter of Saint James we heard a few Sundays ago when he said, “Faith apart from works is dead.” Saint Maximus even goes so far as to say that even the devils have a technical faith as they know who God is and believe in his power. We see this in the various episodes of exorcism in the gospels, where Jesus casts out evil spirits. In Luke 4:41, for example, while Jesus is casting out demons, they identify him as the “Son of God,” but he rebukes them as he does not want to be revealed as the Messiah before his time. The demons are able to identify Jesus as the Messiah, but they do so out of fear. In a way, if we were to say that faith is just believing in Jesus, that he is the Messiah, then one might say that these demons have great faith. In light of this, there must be more to faith than just believing. We are invited by Christ to believe in him, yes, but he also calls us to follow him.

What both Saint Maximus and Saint James speak of is a living faith. However, it can be easy in the spiritual life to settle for a passive or “lazy” faith, a dead faith. A lazy faith is a faith that does not engage or cooperate with God’s grace, a faith that professes belief in word but does not live it out in action either in prayer or good works. Those who practice such a faith are commonly known as “lukewarm Catholics.” Lukewarm Catholics are those who are neither hot nor cold in their faith but only passively accept God’s invitation into relationship with him and the call of discipleship. They may say that they believe, but they never engage with their faith beyond identifying themselves as followers of Christ. As disciples, we are also called to action by sharing what we have received in faith and proclaiming the gospel in word and deed. We actually share the same commission as the Apostles, who were sent forth into the world by Jesus, as we hear in Acts of the Apostles:

*“Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you.* And behold, I am with you always, until the end of the age.” + Acts 1:19-20*

Just like the apostles, we are commissioned to participate in the mission of the Church for the salvation of souls by serving God and others in our own unique call to holiness. We live this calling out, not as couch potatoes sitting on the sidelines, but by actively engaging in the life of the church; both in spiritual matters of prayer and in service to our neighbor. Pope Saint John Paul II summarizes this commission to actively live out the faith as the vocation we are all called to; the vocation of holiness. And what is this holiness? To be holy is simply to love God and to love our neighbor (Matthew 22:37-40). Jesus gives these as the two most important commandments on which all other commandments hang. Therefore we do well to heed these commandments as the call to holiness and the recipe for a living faith.

I have personally been humbled to see this living faith at work in our parish, in the many ways our community prays with zeal and devotion, and seeks to serve each other within the parish and without. The devotions to the Blessed Sacrament and to our Lady humble and inspire me towards greater prayer, and the acts of kindness through the various ministries in the parish and the school challenge me to grow in charity towards my neighbor. I encourage us to reflect on the commission of faith and the Commandments of our Lord to love God and love our neighbor as we look for ways in which we can actively engage in our community and invite and inspire each other to a more vibrant, living faith.

Pax,
- Fr. Gabriel Terrill

THE TRUTH ABOUT ABORTION

Whether it was the many visits to the Arizona Right to Life table after masses on October 6th, or attendance at the presentation by Nik Nikas, you, our parishioners have expressed that the issue of abortion, specifically, AZ Prop. 139 is a subject you take very seriously.

Abortion is more than just the taking of an innocent pre-born life, it has profound physical, mental, and spiritual after-effects on the women who choose to undergo them, which most people are unaware of. When we seek to understand these negative outcomes that women experience afterward, it becomes very clear that abortion is not a compassionate, caring act, but rather, it is extremely harmful to a woman not only in the short-term, but for the rest of her life.

To learn more about how abortions hurt women, visit afterabortion.org, theunchoice.com, and itgoestoofar.com
